

I am strongly opposed to any limitations being placed on the programming content of satellite radio. Satellite radio should be allowed to offer programming that its listeners are interested in, and this includes local programming such as traffic and weather.